Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean

The shrine of each pa-triot's de-vo-tion, A world of-fers hom-age to thee.
 The ark then of free-dom's foun-da-tion, Co-lum-bia rode safe thro' the storm:
 May the wreaths they have won nev-er with-er, Nor its stars cease to shine on the brave:

Thy man-dates make he-roes as-sem-ble, When Lib-er-ty's form stands in view;
 With her gar-lands of vic-t'ry a-round her, When so proud-ly she bore her brave crew;
 May their serv-ice, u-nit-ed, ne'er sev-er, But hold to their col-ors so true;

Thy ban-ners make tyr-an-ny tremble, When borne by the red, white, and blue!
 With her flag proud-ly float-ing be-fore her, The boast of the red, white, and blue!
 The ar-my and na-vy for-ev-er, Three cheers for the red, white, and blue!

CHORUS

When borne by the red, white, and blue! When borne by the red, white, and blue!
 The boast of the red, white, and blue! The boast of the red, white, and blue!
 Three cheers for the red, white, and blue! Three cheers for the red, white, and blue!

Thy ban-ners make tyr-an-ny tremble, When borne by the red, white, and blue!
 With her flag proud-ly float-ing be-fore her, The boast of the red, white, and blue!
 The ar-my and na-vy for-ev-er, Three cheers for the red, white, and blue!

The Italian National Hymn

ALESSIO OLIVIERI

The musical score consists of three staves of music in common time (indicated by '2'). The first staff begins with a treble clef, the second with an alto clef, and the third with a bass clef. The lyrics are written below each staff, corresponding to the notes. The music features various note values including eighth and sixteenth notes, with rests and dynamic markings like 'p' (piano) and 'f' (forte). The lyrics are in Italian and describe scenes of battle and national identity.

2. The bo'swain's mate was very sedate,
     Yet fond of amusement, too;
     He played hopscotch with the starboard watch,
     While the captain, he tickled the crew!
     And the gunner we had was apparently mad,
     For he sat on the after ra-a-ail,
     And fired salutes with the captain's boots,
     In the teeth of the booming gale!
3. The captain sat on the commodore's hat
     And dined, in a royal way,
     Off toasted pigs and pickles and figs
     And gunnery bread each day.
     And the cook was Dutch, and behaved as such;
     For the diet he gave the crew-ew-ew
     Was a number of tons of hot cross-buns
     Served up with sugar and glue.
4. All nautical pride we laid aside;
     And we ran the vessel ashore
     On the Gulliby Isles, where the Poopoo smiles;
     And the rubbly Ubdugs roar.
     And we sat on the edge of a sandy ledge
     And shot at the whistling bee-ee-ee;
     And the cinnamon bats were waterproof hats
     As they dipped in the shiny sea.
5. On Rugbug bark, from morn till dark,
     We dined till we all had grown
     Uncommonly shrunk, when a Chinese junk
     Came up from the Torriby Zone.
     She was chubby and square, but we didn't much care,
     So we cheerily put to see-ee-ee;
     And we left all the crew of the junk to chew
     On the bark of the Rugbug tree.

The Countersigns

Chantey:
"Farewell and adieu,
to you, Spanish ladies!"

What said John Paul Jones on the brave "Bon Homme Rich - ard"; What said that good fight - ing man, lashed foe to foe? "You bid me sur-gal - lant old wakes!

The Countersigns—(Continued)

2. What said Captain Lawrence on board the doomed "Chesapeake";
    What said he, when wounded, they bore him below?
    "Don't give up the ship!"—though the "Shannon" had beaten him!
    And that was the Navy of long, long ago!
3. And once on the "Hartford", what said the great Farragut;
    When death for his fleet swam hid 'neath the flow?
    Why, "Damn the torpedoes!" he ordered—"full speed ahead!"
    And that was the Navy of long, long ago!
4. And what say we now?—Has the Navy begun to fight—
    Will it give up a ship?—By the Great Horn Spoon, no!
    So it's full speed ahead, and down, down with the submarines!
    For such was the Navy of long, long ago!

Blow the Man Down—(Continued)

3. 'Tis when a Black Baller's preparing for sea,
    To my yeo, ho! blow the man down;
You'd split your sides laughing at the sights you would see,
    Oh, give me some time to blow the man down!
4. With the tinkers and tailors and soldiers and all,
    To my yeo, ho! blow the man down;
That ship for good seamen on board a Black Ball,
    Oh, give me some time to blow the man down!
5. 'Tis when a Black Baller is clear of the land,
    To my yeo, ho! blow the man down;
Our boatswain then gives us the word of command,
    Oh, give me some time to blow the man down!
6. "Lay aft!" was the cry "to the break of the poop!"
    To my yeo, ho! blow the man down;
"Or I'll help you along with the toe of my boot,"
    Oh, give me some time to blow the man down!
7. 'Tis larboard and starboard on the deck you will sprawl,
    To my yeo, ho! blow the man down;
For "Kicking Jack Williams" commands the "Black Ball,"
    Oh, give me some time to blow the man down!
8. 'Tis when a Black Baller comes back to her dock,
    To my yeo, ho! blow the man down,
The lassies and lads to the pierhead do flock,
    Oh, give me some time to blow the man down!

Madelon

(Melody: "Quand Madelon")

A pace or two from the camp where soldiers muster,
There is an inn that is called "The Poilus' Rest"—

A modest house where the walls with ivy cluster,
Between the wood and the field—a cozy nest.

The girl who waits on us is pleasing,
Like sparkling wine, her eyes in fun.
She hardly halts to hear our teasing—
She's only known as Madelon.

All through our dreams at night, all through our day's dull chance,
She's only Madelon, perhaps—but she's Romance.

CHORUS

When Madelon comes tripping to our table,
We boldly pluck her skirt as she goes by;
And each one invents a pretty fable,
Told to win her on the sly.

English translation by MRS. F. C. FAY, copyright 1918.

Our Madelon is not a surly beauty,
So, when we chuck her chin to lead her on,
She just laughs, and feels she's done her duty—

Madelon—Madelon—Madelon!

Well, ev'ry soldier has got at home his dearest,
The girl who waits, knowing some day
she'll be his;
But she's so far, while our Madelon is nearest
To catch the true, longing message of our kiss.

Slow run the hours we pass here lonely,
And as the days drag on and on,
The words we meant to tell one only,
We tell instead to Madelon.

She chides our rough embrace and says
we muss her hair;
We laugh and think of her who's waiting
over there.—CHORUS:

Madelon (Continued)

Up came a corp'ral one morning bright and early
All polished up, dressed in uniform so grand;
Declared he loved only her, his dearest
girlie,
And boldly said that he came to ask her hand.

Now, Madelon is not so simple:
“One man could not make me content,”

She laughed and showed a pretty dimple,
“My heart is with the regiment!
“Be good. Your friends will come! One hand I cannot spare:
“To serve the soldiers wine I need at least a pair!”

CHORUS:

Back Home to Old America

Words by HOMER HOWELLS HARBOUR

(Melody: “Le Long du Missouri”)

Over there in France will come a day,
A happy day, a happy day,
When the war at last is done,
When the victory is won;
We'll be sailing homeward to the West,
The Golden West, the Golden West,
To the land we love the best,
The U. S. A.

CHORUS:

Home to old America,
Back home to old America,
The girls will sure be there to meet us,
All the people out to greet us,
Home to old America,
Back home to old America,
With joy we'll hail you—
Uncle Sam.

La Marseillaise

(The French National Anthem)

Ye sons of France awake to glory,
The sun of victory soon will rise,
Tho' the tyrant's standard all gory
Is upreared in pride to the skies,
Is upreared in pride to the skies.

Do ye not hear in every village
Fierce soldiers who spread war's alarms,
Who even in our sheltering arms
Slay our sons and give our homes to pillage.

To arms, ye brave, to arms;
We'll form battalions strong.
March on, march on,
Their blood impure
Shall bathe our threshold soon.

La Brabançonne

(The Belgian National Anthem)

The years of slavery are past,
The Belgian rejoices once more;
Courage restores to him at last
The rights he held of yore!
Strong and firm his clasp will be
Keeping the ancient flag unfurl'd
To fling its message on the watchful world;
For King, for Right, and Liberty!
To fling its message on the watch-
ful world:
For King, for Right, and Liberty!
For King, for Right, and Liberty!
For King, for Right, and Liberty!

The English words of "La Brabançonne" and the "Garibaldi Hymn" are by Florence Attenborough;

The Garibaldi Hymn

(The Italian National Hymn)

Come, arm ye! Come, arm ye!
From vineyards of olives, from grape-mantled bowers,
Where landscapes are laughing in mazes of flowers;
From mountains, all lighted by sapphire and amber,
From cities of marble, from temples and marts,
Arise, all ye valiants! your manhood proclaiming,
Whilst thunders are meeting and sabres are flaming.
For honor, for glory, the bugles are sounding,
To quicken your pulses and gladden your hearts.
Then hurl our fierce foemen far from us, forever,
The Day is dawning, the Day is dawning which shall be our own.

the first time I have seen it. It is a very large tree, with a trunk about 12 inches in diameter, and a height of about 20 feet. The leaves are large and broad, with a pointed apex, and are arranged in whorls along the branches. The flowers are small and white, and are produced in clusters at the ends of the branches. The fruit is a small, round, yellowish-orange berry, which is edible. The bark is smooth and grey, and the wood is hard and strong. This tree is found in the forests of the Andes, and is used for timber and fuel.
